Lutheran World Information

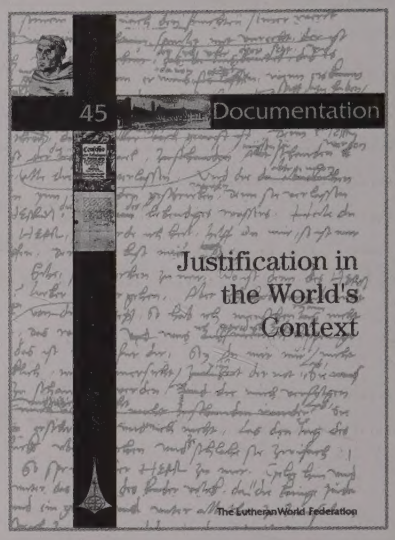
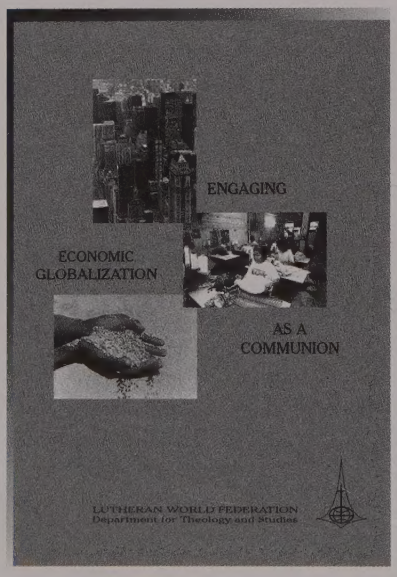
Women magazine is a published twice a year by the desk for Women in Church and Society (WICAS), LWF Department for Mission and Development. The latest issue titled "Women Where Are We Going?" (No. 53), edited by WICAS secretary, Ms. Priscilla Singh, contains reflections on issues that affect women worldwide.

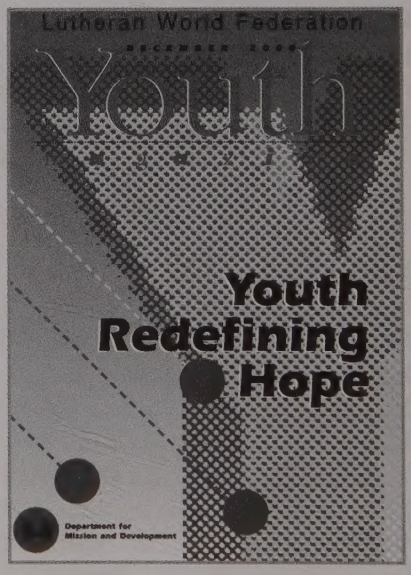


Justification in the World's Context (No. 45/2000) in the LWF Documentation series is a compilation of essays by authors from different parts of the world, examining the Lutheran doctrine of justification in light of today's globalized, plural societies. The 258-page publication is edited by Rev. Dr. Wolfgang Greive, study secretary for theology and the church, Department for Theology and Studies.



Engaging Economic Globalization as a Communion, a working paper produced by the LWF Department for Theology and Studies (DTS) Church and Social Issues desk, seeks to initiate a process throughout the LWF member churches and beyond for reflecting on the dynamics and effects of economic globalization. Edited by Rev. Dr. Karen Bloomquist, DTS director and study secretary for the church and social issues, the publication is also available in German, and will soon be distributed in French and Spanish.

For further information, please contact the respective departments through the LWF address indicated on this page.



Youth is published twice a year by the LWF/DMD desk for Youth in Church and Society (YICAS). In the last issue (No.46) titled "Youth Redefining Hope" young people from different regions of the Lutheran World Federation speak out on their participation in the life of church and society.
